STONE AT FAIRVIEW.

Spoke Yesterday to an Enthusiastic Crowd.

Paid His Respects To Hardin In Some Very Plain Language.

Fairview, Ky., June 8.—Capt. W. J. Stone spoke here this afternoon in the interest of his race for Governor. A fair crowd was on hand and the Captain had on his fighting clothes. The fight in Todd county is very bitter between the Hardin and Stone forces. The Hardin men have flooded the county with literature attacking Capt. Stone, and his friends made this appointment and one at Daysville tonight for him to answer the charges. He discussed the attacks on his record in a very pointed style and paid his respects to Gen. Hardin in very plain language. His speech had a decided impression here and his already large following was considerably increased.

Capt. Stone is very much satisfied with his prospects for the nomination.

COMMITTEE CALLED

By Chairman Johnston To Meet at Lexington.

Lexington, Ky., June 8.—Chairman P. P. Johnston, has called a meeting of the Democratic State Executive Committee for Tuesday, June 13, at noon, at the Phoenix Hotel, Lexington, in response to a request from Committeemen James Roark and Meacham.

Chairman Johnston insists that Committeeman Vreeland has no authority to take charge of arrangements for the State Convention and says that party law provides for the chairman carrying out the wishes of the committee. He will make a strong fight against Vreeland's furnishing badges and tickets of admission to members of the committee.

THREE WOMEN DROWNED.

Loss Lives While Bathing in Creek at Lebanon, Ill.

Lebanon, Ill., June 6.—Misses Ruth Jepson, of Lebanon, Florence Spies, of St. Jacob, and Hellen Jack, of Beaupou, Ill., students at McKendree college, were drowned in the creek near here this afternoon. The college term has about closed and the young women were in a party of six that went bathing in Silver creek.

RADIANT WITH JOY.

Dreyfus Gets the News of the New Trial Granted Him.

Fort De France, Island of Martinique, June 6.—When the dispatch boat Goealand, bearing the superintendent of the prison and the commander of the marine artillery who were designated by the French government to notify Dreyfus of the revision of his trial, arrived yesterday from Cayenne at the Isle du Diable, Dreyfus was waiting on the shore. He received the official intelligence with a countenance radiant with joy.

FOUND DEAD.

Young Lady in Marshall County Dies Suddenly.

Miss Dora Story, aged 17 years, was found dead in her bed Monday night at the home of her mother near Ozan, Marshall county. She died from natural causes, and besides a mother she leaves four sisters and one brother. Her remains were buried at the family burying ground yesterday afternoon.

CIRCUIT COURT.

Petit Jury Empaneled and Court Gets Down to Work.

The Haskins Murder Case Dismissed on Motion of the Commonwealth.

The following petit jurors have been announced:
Sam Brown, B. F. Anderson, Dudley McClendon, Chas. E. Oliver, H. P. Rives, J. B. Martin, Sr., R. F. Vaughan, John H. P. Pool, W. H. Roberts, J. H. Underwood, L. J. Purcell, John W. Pritchett, Geo. L. Cavanaugh, Jesse A. Payne, Sam Ralston, J. M. McCord, Tobie Moseley, W. L. Turner, E. O. Morris, O. A. West, Alex Carpenter, W. M. Cravens, J. R. Goode, Ira L. Moss, Robert Vaughan, Columbus Gladdish, George Walker, George Boyd, Alford Littlepage.

The case of the Commonwealth against Wm. Jones, charged with detaining a woman, was continued to the September term.

John Hendricks selling liquor without a license, fined $20.

Marcus Boyd and others, charged with injuring church property, dismissed.

The most important case set for this week was that of Albert Haskins, col., indicted for murder. This case was called Wednesday morning and on motion of the Commonwealth was dismissed. Henry Reese, col., was killed near Herndon about a year ago, and an indictment was returned charging Haskins with murder. Haskins has been out on bond.

Several Commonwealth cases were called and continued until the next term of court.

SHOT AS SPIES.

Party of Scientists Killed By Russian Troops.

Victoria, B. C., June 7.—Asiatic papers of May 6 contain the news that the fate of the party of scientists, missing for upward of a month past, has been disclosed. They landed near Tosang on the Liao Tung peninsula to pursue their investigations of earthquake phenomena and mountain flora, when they were made prisoners by a party of Russian cavalry and shot as spies without the semblance of a trial.

Their photographic and other scientific apparatus was destroyed. There were eleven professors in the party, one German savant and ten native Japanese, whose homes were in Kobe and Tokio. The Japanese authorities will make a thorough investigation.

MAJ. JOHNSTON'S FRIENDS.

Fear He Has Made Trouble For Himself In Overriding Committee.

Lexington, Ky., June 7.—Chairman P. P. Johnston, of the Democratic State Central Committee, refuses to discuss the trouble resulting in the calling of a meeting of the committee on June 13. It is the impression of his friends that there is trouble in store for Maj. Johnston because he repudiated the action of the committee in authorizing Committeeman Vreeland to make preparations for the State Convention to be held at Louisville.

ESCAPED FROM ASYLUM.

Muhlenberg Lady Took French Leave Yesterday Morning.

Mrs. Johnson, an inmate of the asylum, escaped from the institution yesterday morning and at last accounts was still at large. She was out on the lawn with other patients and suddenly disappeared, leaving no idea of the route she took. Mrs. Johnson was sent here several years ago from Muhlenberg county for treatment.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For Railroad Commissioner,
J. FLETCHER DEMPSEY,
of Hopkins County.

ATTENTION, DEMOCRATS!

The Official Call For a Mass Convention Saturday, June 17.

Pursuant to an order of the Democratic State Executive Committee,
the Democrats of Christian county are requested to meet at the Court House in Hopkinsville, Saturday, June 17, 1899, at 2 o'clock p. m., standard time, to select delegates to the state convention at Louisville,
June 17, 1899.

All known Democrats and others who supported Wm. J. Bryan for President, and those who pledge themselves to support the nominees of said convention, shall be entitled to participate in the county convention.
ISAAC GARROTT, Chairman.
GEORGE E. GARY, Secretary.

Sixteen members of the next Senate have been governors of their States.

Thus far only 1,661 Cuban soldiers have been paid the bounty of $75 each.

Johann Strauss, the great Austrian composer of waltzes, is dead. He was buried between the graves of Schubert and Brahms.

Gen. Gomez has issued a farewell address to the Cuban army, which has nearly concluded the work of disbanding.

Boss Hanna has authorized the statement that he doesn't want to be boss any longer. Perhaps Mark is dissatisfied because he is not the only fly in the ointment.

Jos. Labraget, a notorious agent of Weyer, who outraged defenseless women and killed children, was lynched at San Antonio, Cuba, Monday, when he returned to his former home.

Lucas Moore, commissioner of Agriculture, has designated June 10 as State Day at the Lexington
State College, for the consideration of ways and means for improving the highways of the State.

All deals are off in Franklin county and a hot fight is on, with Hardin on one side and Goebel on the other, both with delegations pledged to Scott for Attorney General and the Stone men lining up with Goebel.

Chairman Johnston declined to call a meeting of the State Central Committee in Louisville as requested, although he was informed that the committee desired to inspect both halls selected and act for the good of the party. On the other hand he has called a meeting for the 13th in the city of Lexington and in doing so has felt called upon to issue a two-column address to the readers of the Louisville Dispatch.

We do not believe the Democrats of Christian county should vote for any candidate for Governor whose position on the present election law, so essential to fair elections in this county, is not clearly understood.
Two of the three candidates—Senator Goebel and Capt. Stone—are in favor of the law and will if nominated defend it on the stump. As between these, other things being equal, Capt.
Stone has claims upon this county that should not be overlooked.
He is our near neighbor, in the same judicial district, and bound to us by many common ties. While the Democrats of the county feel grateful to Senator Goebel for his interest in the Senate in many matters concerning them, Capt.
Stone is from our own section of the State and is therefore entitled to their first consideration.

Warren county is a storm center of politics in the closing days of the campaign. At recent meetings of the Bowling Green committee and the county committee, new chairmen were elected, one a Goebel man and the other a Stone man. The old chairmen who were Hardin men resisted removal and questioned the authority of Committee man Rhea to fill vacancies in the county committee, producing an old 1895 rule.
The rules of 1896 and 1897 place
this power in the hands of the district Committee man and the only applicable Committee man of the State Central Committee—not to the chairman, who was shorn of all power except that of a presiding officer. As the State Central Committee in the Dunlap appeal a year ago voted to sustain the local members in such cases, Mr. Rhea is clearly in the right, since he did nothing except to fill vacancies, and this was done weeks ago. The rule applicable to county committees reads as follows:

"Each County and Legislative district committee, if any, shall elect one of its members Chairman, and another Secretary, and may remove them at pleasure and appoint others in their places."

This is so plain that it cannot be misunderstood and the retired chairmen are simply pursuing revolutionary tactics. It is said they will go so far as to call and hold separate conventions, in which the friends of only one candidate will participate, and send a contesting delegation to the State Convention.
This of course amounts to a surrender of the county, if anything like fairness is to prevail in the settlement of such contests by the State Convention.

Fred Friedenheimer, of Louisville, was arrested in Cincinnati Wednesday as one of the two men who swindled the German Insurance Bank out of $5,000 Monday. The detectives say he has admitted connection with the robbery, but refuses to tell who his companions are, saying he will wear all the responsibility.

Died of Brain Fever.

An 18-months-old child of Mr.
Jno. Charlton died in the city Monday evening of brain trouble. The burying ground on the Butler road,

a few miles east of the city, Tuesday afternoon.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J.
Clemey & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market.
It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address,

THE CUMBERLAND CO.

Buys Controlling Interest in Ohio Valley Co.

Louisville, Ky., June 8.—James E. Caldwell and associates, who are largely interested in and control the Cumberland Telephone & Telegraph Company, have purchased the majority of the stock of the Ohio Valley Telephone Company of this city, and assumed control of its plant. The lines of the Cumberland Company extend over Western Kentucky, a large portion of Tennessee and the entire States of Mississippi and Louisiana. The absorption of the Ohio Valley Company will result in a telephone system extending from Louisville to New Orleans, which will give increased telephone facilities. Lines are now under construction, and will soon be completed, which will connect Louisville with this vast Southern territory.

God, as his actions show. He has not the timidity and embarrassment of a child as he faces a congregation. He has preached in both white and colored churches.
He is now seven years old and is Graduates Face The Footlights At The Tabernacle.

Closing Exercises of The Hopkinsville Public School Held Last Night.

The last of the commencement exercises of the Public Schools were held at the Tabernacle last night and the eighteen young ladies and gentlemen, whose names have been previously given, were given certificates of graduation, having completed the course of instruction in the High School department.

A large audience was present and the entertainment was a very interesting one. The cake walk feature participated in by the primary grades, was a distinct success and was very amusing.

The early hour at which we went to press prevents more than a passing notice in this issue.

ABOUT THE WEED.

The Market This Week Reported a Little Irregular.

The tobacco market was a little irregular this week, and prices were possibly a shade lower than those of last week on all grades of the weed. This was largely due to the fact that there was less activity shown on part of buyers. Very little choice tobacco was offered, the sales being made up mostly of the lower grades. Good leaf ranged from $6.50 to $9.75, common to medium leaf from $6.25 to $4.50, medium to good lugs from $4.75 to $4.00, and common to medium lugs from $2.00 to $3.50. The very busy season among the farmers has caused a slight falling off in receipts, but they are still very heavy.

The offerings were large and sales amounted to nearly one thousand and hogheads this week. Rejections were also large. There is very little being done on the loose market.

CANDIDATES SPEAK

Messrs. N. B. Hays and W. B. Fleming at The Court House.

Mr. N. B. Hays, of Pineville, Ky., candidate for attorney-general, spoke by appointment at the Court House Wednesday afternoon and made one of the best speeches heard here this season. He discussed state matters especially in a very entertaining manner and cited numerous instances of Republican frauds in the mountain counties that rendered the passage of a reform election bill necessary. He said in his own county the county judge refused to divide the election officers as required by law, but appointed notorious bums and heelers to represent the Democratic party. The county clerk, he said, took the registration books to a saloon late at night and registered numbers of floaters from Tennessee and Virginia. He discussed these frauds at length and declared that he was not only in favor of the present election law, but wanted something still better and also favored a constitutional amendment doing away with the secret ballot altogether. This portion of his speech was loudly applauded.

Judge W. B. Fleming, candidate for the same office, was also present and followed Mr. Hays in a short speech, taking substantially the same position upon state issues as Mr. Hays.

Mr. Hays left yesterday for Owensboro to continue his canvass in the Second District. He is a lawyer of high standing in Eastern Kentucky and was a Democratic elector in 1892. His wife, formerly Miss Rosa Montgomery, of Providence, Ky., was educated at Bethel Female College and is very pleasantly remembered here by those who knew her as a schoolgirl.

A NEW MICROBE.

From Paris Comes Word of the New Microbe Discovered by

Professor Fahrig, the Eminent Bacteriologist,

Which, It Has Been Proved, Causes

Baldness.

HOW THE MICROBE WORKS.

What Is Needed to Stop Its Ravages and Prevent Our Descendants from Being a Race of Bald Heads.

FALLING HAIR IS CURABLE.

Paris, June 1.—Prof. E. Fahrig, the eminent professor of chemistry and doctor of science, has made public the nature of his latest discoveries in regard to fibre, human hair and the microbe which causes dandruff, falling hair, gray hair and baldness.

His discovery will, when thoroughly understood, revolutionize the treatment of all hair diseases.

In his treatise lately published he describes his experiments as to the contagious properties of dandruff, as caused by the transferring of the microbe from one person to another in hair brushes etc., and also explains how the microbe can be destroyed by proper germicidal and microbicidal applications.

This treatment, as Dr. Fahrig makes clear, by destroying the microbe also cures the disease of which it is the cause, and therefore gives permanent relief from dandruff and falling hair, and prevents gray hair and baldness even up to extreme old age.

His formulae have been used in the preparation of Cratonic Hair Food, as made in Paris at the laboratories of the Cratonic Hair Food Co., according to his directions, and this article is therefore the only logical and scientific treatment for all hair and scalp diseases.

The American laboratories in New York City, to prove its wonderful efficacy, will give away a free bottle to every applicant, by mail prepaid to any address.

Those of our readers who wish to take advantage of this free offer should send their name and address at once to the Cratonic Hair Food Co., 526 West Broadway, New York City, enclosing ten cents in stamps or silver to pay postage, and mention the HOPKINSVILLE KENTUCKIAN, when the free bottle will be sent them direct by mail prepaid.

If the disposition to worms in children is not cured they may be emaciated, weakly and in danger of convulsions. WHITES' CREAM VERMIFUGE is the most successful and popular remedy. Price 25 cts. Sold by R. C. Herbin.

SEASON OF 1899.

To Our Friends: Another season of seed time is fast approaching, and the wise and prudent farmer will again use the old and favorably known JONES' BRANDS OF BONE AND ANIMAL MATTER FERTILIZERS, that have for many years done their full duty when applied to both Spring and Fall crops. The use of commercial Fertilizers is almost universal, and the experience of many years has proven conclusively that ANIMAL MATTER FERTILIZERS are the most complete plant food known, and the fact of putting ACID PHOSPHATE ROCK in a bag and branding it "DIS SOLVED BONE" does not make it animal matter. Honest strictly pure Animal Matter Fertilizers cost more than rock goods because they are worth more, and we ask that you remember this fact. Our goods go out under our guarantee analysis, and this guarantee is good. We offer our goods on their merits, and refer with great satisfaction to their most excellent reputation in all parts of Ohio, Indiana, and Kentucky, where they are extensively used. We respectfully urge you to give the celebrated Jones Fertilizing Co.'s goods a trial on both Spring and Fall crops, and we know satisfactory results and future orders will certainly follow.

FACTS AND FIGURES

PATIENT AND USEFUL.

In the Rocky Mountain Country the Hardy Little Burro is the Settler's Best Friend.

Travelers to mountainous countries are sure, sooner or later, to make the acquaintance of those patient and long-suffering beasts of burden—mountain burros. Of phenomenal strength on the scantiest supply of food, the burro is an important factor in the development of new countries. It can go where the railroad cannot, and its footing is assured when that of the horse and ox would be uncertain. The load one of these little creatures can carry is astonishing. The illustration shows one with nearly a cord of wood on its back and this writer has seen one of the most diminutive of these little creatures going slowly but surely up a perilous trail in the Rocky mountains with a cooking stove, bedstead, bedding, two chairs, three valises, a small trunk and a number of pots, pans and kettles and tinware of all sorts on its back. It is not uncommon to see them setting forth on a long journey with a barrel of flour strapped on either side and other freight on their backs. One meets long trains of them in the Rocky mountains coming down from mines at the very summits of the mountains with hundreds of pounds of stout canvas bags on their backs. Indeed, it would be almost impossible to develop some mines were it not for the assistance of the donkey in carrying supplies to the mines and in carrying the ore away. It is almost impossible to get them to move faster than at the slow, plodding pace they have set for the service. Blows, kicks and curses are of no avail. Thus fast and no faster will they go. It is impossible to think of them as "running away" under any provocation, and even "shying" is not one of its weaknesses. He is as stupid as he is faithful, and in infinite patience is due more to lack of spirit than to anything else. He is a joy to children, and will submit to any sort of indignity from them, while he will not only "carry double" but even triple, and if half a dozen boys and girls could get on to his back at once he would carry them all, but the combined efforts of the six could not induce him to go faster than his regular and snail-like gait.

The only time that the burro gives evidence of having a slumbering lion in his breast is when he wages warfare against one of his own species. He fights spiritedly and fiercely. What calls forth these encounters is a mystery, but two of these little creatures will sometimes "fight it out" and fight furiously, using their teeth and heels with powerful effect. When the battle is ended they lapse back into their utter lethargy and stupidity, and are nothing but patient beasts when loaded with heavy burdens—Detroit Free Press.

Tallow Candles as Medicine. In France the peasantry still stick to medicines calculated to turn the average doctor's hair gray with horror. Wine is an ingredient of every prescription. In fever cases it is always the predominant one. The French peasant's faith in fermented grape juice is truly beautiful. If his children are stricken with the measles he gives them boxes of wine, well sweetened with honey and highly spiced with pepper. For a severe cold he administers a quart of red wine and a melted tallow candle mixed. For scarlet or brain fever he gives eggs, white wine and not beaten together. Not all their superstitions are curious; some are pathetic. A mother, for instance, often berates her dead child with his favorite toy, or a look of her own hair in the coffin, "that it may not feel quite alone."

Dog Cited by Telephone. The Daily Telegraph narrates the following incident: "A lady passenger who arrived at Redhill by train reported in great grief to the station master that her little pet dog had been left by accident on the platform at Reigate, and would likely be either crushed by a locomotive or lost. The courteous official enquired through the Reigate poolie, and the answer came immediately that a dog of that description had just been brought into the police station. The receiver was put to the dog's end, and the lady was asked to speak to it. She did so. The effect was electric. The dog barked a cordial recognition of the voice, and by its actions expressed a great desire to jump into the apparatus and traverse the wire in order to get to its mistress all

FIGHT WITH WILDCAT.

Hunter Was Getting the Worst of It Until His Dog Took a Part in the Combat.

William Babcock, one of the best known trappers and hunters in Sullivan county, N. Y., is the hero of a thrilling experience in wildcat hunting. The many swamps of the county are infested by hundreds of these vicious brutes, and hunters devote the winter season to shooting and trapping them, both for the bounty and the excitement. Babcock started out early one morning with one of his trained dogs for a "little hunt" in Flanagan swamp, near his home. He had been out but a short time before the dog had treed a big wildcat. Babcock soon arrived on the scene and fired four shots into the body of the cat, but it did not drop. It was in the crotch of the tree, and the hunter supposed he had killed it, and the forks of the tree prevented him from falling. He accordingly laid down his gun, and, removing his cartridge belt, started to climb the tree to secure his prize. When within a few feet of the brute he emitted a scream and, through the air, striking on Babcock's back, it caused him to lose his hold, and man and cat went tumbling through the limbs to the ground. The wounded and now-angered beast did not for a second lose its grip upon his back, but kept biting him when they reached the ground. The dog was waiting for this, and seeing his master's danger, sprang upon the wildcat with such ferocity that it let go of Babcock and pitched into the dog, and a fierce combat ensued. They rolled over and over, biting and growling. Babcock all the time being afraid to shoot lest he should injure his brave dog. After a long struggle the wildcat weakened the com the loss of blood from the shots of Babcock's gun, gave up the fight and was soon finished by Babcock and the dog. Both the hunter and the dog are terribly lacerated from the claws of the wildcat.—N. Y. Sun.

DEFEATED BY A RAT.

Schoolboys Expect to Have Lots of Fun with an Old Rodent, but Are Disappointed.

"Knowledge is power," and age and experience brings knowledge if not always wisdom. This fact was shown in a West side schoolhouse recently, when one of the boys trapped a large gray rat. At the noon hour he took counsel with his comrades and they decided to dispose of the rodent in sportsmanlike style by giving him a chance for his life. The rat was evidently very old, but he was also very fierce and quick to resent any advances made by the boys.

They decided to hold the exercises in one of the narrow hallways of the building. One boy stationed himself with the trap at one end of the hallway and the others, armed with brooms and sticks, ranged themselves along the walls ready to smite the rat as he ran by them.

But when the trap was opened the wily old animal took the offensive and charged one of the boys, who immediately danced around and yelled for help. The others flocked to his rescue and began pounding the floor and each other's toes in vain efforts to embarrass the rat. When they were thoroughly mixed the gray-haired hero of many battles slipped out from under the mass and scurried down the hall, leaving them to settle their own disturbance.—Chicago Daily News.

The Largest Thermometer.

Biggest of all thermometers in the world is the one which Col. Knight is placing in the ground at Harestock, Winchester, Mass. It is 70 feet long, nearly twice the length of the longest ever made. The object of making such a shaft into the earth is to take the temperature of the earth at that depth. To lower the thermometer it is necessary to put up scaffolding at least 70 feet high. The descent was effected by means of steam cranes, and then lowered carefully into the 70-foot hole which had been dug for it. The thermometer is made on the same principle as the household ones, but, because of its size, several unusual difficulties had to be overcome.

It was one of these experimental farmers, who was the first to try the cow and fed her shavings.

His theory was that it didn't matter what the cow ate so long as she was fed. The question of digestion and nourishment had not entered into his calculations.

"It's only a tenderfoot" farmer that would try such an experiment with a cow. But many a farmer feeds himself regardless of the condition of his digestion and nutrition are impaired and the man suffers the miseries of dyspepsia and the agonies of nervousness.

To strengthen the stomach, restore the activity of the organs of digestion and nutrition and nourish the nerves, use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is an unfailing remedy, and has the confidence of physicians as well as the confidence of thousands of grateful patients.

In the strictest sense "Golden Medical Discovery" is a temperance medicine. It contains neither intoxicants nor narcotics, and is as free from alcohol as from opium, cocaine and other dangerous drugs.

Don't let a dealer deceive you for his own profit. There is no medicine for stomach and blood "just as good" as "Golden Medical Discovery."

Write to your "Golden Medical Discovery" has cured me and well after suffering twenty years with stomach troubles," writes Dr. J. M. of Boston, Mass. "I feel my health is worth all the gold in the world."

Bad management keeps more people in poor circumstances than any other cause. To be successful, one must look ahead and plan ahead so that when a favorable opportunity presents itself he is ready to take advantage of it.

A little forethought will also save much expense and valuable time. A prudent and careful man will keep a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in the house, the shrewd fellow will wait until he needs it, and then turn to his best horse going for a doctor and have a doctor bill to pay, besides; one pays out 25 cents, the other is out a hundred dollars and then wonders why his neighbor is getting richer while he is getting poorer. FINED ONE CENT EACH. For Signing Petition Asking Grand Jury Not To Indict Insurance Companies.

Princeton, Ky., June 5.—Circuit Court convened here this morning, and an unusual interest attached on account of all the citizens of the town having been summoned to answer a charge for contempt of court at the March term. They had signed a petition asking the grand jury not to indict the insurance companies for conspiracy to raise rates, and no indictments were returned against them. The Commonwealth's Attorney then made a motion to have the citizens arraigned for interfering with the jury. After considerable argument the Judge fined them one cent each, and his decision was applauded by the citizens.

WHERE BEECHER WOODED.

Famous Divine Won His Wife in Pantry of a Farm House.

Henry Beecher Bullard is just entering upon his thirty-first year as postmaster and proprietor of the village store in West Sutton, Mass. Mr. Bullard is well known in business and political circles through Worcester county, but it is not generally known, says the Worcester (Mass.) Telegram, that his name, Henry Beecher, was given to him by his uncle, Henry Ward Beecher.

Mr. Bullard was born in Holden April 9, 1839, and when the question of naming the child came up the celebrated Brooklyn divine said: "I would like you to name the boy Henry Beecher, and if you do I will give him a first-class education." The name was given him, and his uncle watched and waited for the time when he would be old enough to leave the parental roof and begin the promised education.

When the boy Henry was five years of age his parents moved to the Bullard farm in West Sutton. The elder Bullard was a poor man, and his three sons, Ira, Henry and Franklin, had to work early in life to help carry on the 180-acre farm.

When a small lad Henry built fires and took care of the village school-house winters, receiving ninepence a week. When ten years of age Henry and his brother Ira, two years older, began hauling wood from a forest three miles away, each having the management of a team, one of which was a pair of oxen, the other one pair and a horse. This work was followed, when other farm duties would permit, for seven years.

When Henry reached the age of 15 Henry Ward Beecher wrote to the father that he was ready to fulfill his promise, and requested that the boy be sent to Brooklyn to become a member of Mr. Beecher's family, attend a preparatory school and later enter college. The elder Bullard had taught district schools, and must have realized the value of a thorough education, but, feeling the need of his son's help, he vetoed the plan of Mr. Beecher, and instead of a college education, Henry received only the benefit of the district school winters until he was 17 years of age.

The father gave each of his sons his time at the age of 17, and when Henry reached that age he worked for his father, the first year receiving $100 and board. The following year he went to the family treasury, the son took the parental note for the year's wages and went to Oxford, where he passed a year in the employ of Franklin F. Sibley, working 16 hours a day and receiving therefor $12 a month. When Henry was 20 his father was in feeble health, and he returned to the family treasury, the son took the parental note for the year's wages and went to Oxford, where he passed a year in the employ of Franklin F. Sibley, working 16 hours a day and receiving therefor $12 a month.

The Bullard farm is one of the most interesting landmarks to visitors, it being the girlhood home of Mrs. Henry Ward Beecher and the scene of her marriage to the young clergyman who afterward became the most noted divine of his day.

The house, a large two-story frame structure, was built in 1767, and came into the possession of the Bullard family in 1805. The present owner, H. B. Bullard, keeps the house in perfect repair, but the parlor where Eunice W. Bullard married Henry Ward Beecher, and the room above, which was hers, remain unchanged, the paper upon the walls having survived the dust of over 60 years.

In the later years of her life Mrs. Beecher made frequent visits to her girlhood home, and on each of these occasions she wrote the name and the date of her visit on the wall paper of the room where she and Mr. Beecher were married. The being no more, the last of these visits was in the summer of 1895, when she was accompanied by Rev. Lyman Abbott. For some time Mr. Amasa Bullard opposed Mr. Beecher's attentions to his daughter Eunice, on the ground that the young bride's financial prospects were not what he wished for his daughter's husband. Mr. Beecher was wont to tell that he did his courting in the pantry of the Bullard house while the fair Eunice was making pastry for the family table. Among the milkpans and shelves of tarts they enjoyed their communion of hearts, that they might be out of the way of the father-in-law. Mr. Beecher alluded to this in his later life when making an address at the opening of Hampden park, Springfield, Mass.: "I love to be here among the farmers. I love the farm, and I love the farm parlor, as it was there I began my courting."

Next the house stands a wide-spreading elm, which Mr. Beecher said he had in mind when writing his famous serial story, "Norwood."

Minisium Lake in Australia. The lowest wage paid to any female with over four years' experience in the furniture trade shall be 20s. per week of 48 hours.

THE RULE OF THREE.

Advice of a Business Man to Young Men Seeking Success.

There are good business reasons for expecting more young men to venture into mercantile and industrial enterprises during the present year than have done so in the last five or six years all told. Present business conditions throughout the country and the constant expansion in all lines—notably in all departments of the dry goods trade—will certainly be a powerful incentive toward new business ventures.

The fortunes of many prosperous careers can and will be laid during 1899 and 1900. But there will also be some other failures, no matter how great the general prosperity. Whether the individual young merchant in each case is to succeed or fail will depend upon himself and upon the methods he adopts. The present is therefore an opportune time for speaking a word, true but true as gospel, that may save some from disaster, and that will most assuredly bring success to all who follow it faithfully.

After an intense business experience of 30 years the writer of this article desires to urge upon young business men—and upon old business men, too, for that matter—the supreme importance of what may be called the commercial rule of three, as embodied in these three rules: Be prompt; be thorough; keep your promise. In these three rules lies the whole secret of success for the merchant. They sound simple, but if you can only live up to them, you will find that they cover the whole scope of business enterprise. They imply honesty, industry, unselfishness, devotion to duty—all the fundamental principles of modern commerce. They are the sum and substance of all the teachings of centuries and represent the best and the greatest commercial rule on the face of the earth.

The merchants of the United States are again facing great opportunities, and thousands of young men are about to face these opportunities for the first time. Upon all we would urge the vital importance of the "rule of three" in the successful conduct of any business enterprise, large or small, distributive or manufacturing. If you expect to be able to compete with your neighbors and finally acquire a competence for yourself—adopt the rules of promptness, thoroughness and reliability. Choose between them and failure, for there is no other choice.

Be prompt yourself, and require every man, woman and child identified with your enterprise in any way, however remote, to be prompt in everything they undertake in relation to your business. Be thorough yourself, and set the example to all associated with you. It is not enough to be thorough part of the time, or only when you feel well and are in a good humor. Be thorough all the time in everything pertaining to your business. No item is so small that you can afford to slight it. Thoroughness and promptness must be two of the watchwords of any man's career as a successful merchant or manufacturer. And the third, no less important, must be fidelity to his promises.

Be sure never to permit yourself, under any circumstances, or to permit any of your employees or representatives, to make a business promise to your customers that you cannot faithfully execute. Lose the sale—lose the customer, if necessary—but never make a promise that you cannot keep. Let rule number three be a sacred watchword in your store, like the other two rules that go with it. Be careful about their courting days, and then always do what you say you will. The young men who, by hundreds and thousands, will go into various kinds of business enterprises during this year and next, should engrave these words on their business brains: Be prompt, be thorough, be sure to keep your promises.—Chicago Dry Goods Reporter.

Neighborhood Telephones. The time is undoubtedly coming very rapidly when the isolation of the farmer will become mitigated, owing to "neighborhood telephone lines," by means of which they can communicate with each other without reference to the condition of the roads or press of work. A local paper of an inland city in New York state describes an interesting line where the subscribers constructed the line, furnishing the tools and doing the work themselves, the expense of wire, instruments, etc., was equally divided among them, and the cost was only $14 per line.

The line, of course, is free to subscribers, but others can make use of it by the payment of a small fee. At present there are ten subscribers to the line.

Reputation. A man may fall innocently into a compromising situation; but when he persists in staying in it, he must be ready to pay the penalty by his good name.—Watcheon.

A Bit of True Philosophy. There is only one day in a year, that is: to-day.—Bam's Horn.

GOEBEL'S DATE.

The Kenton Senator Makes two Speeches To-day.

At Pembroke This Afternoon and at the Court House To-night.

Senator Goebel will close his canvass in Christian County to-day with two speeches. The first will be at Pembroke this afternoon.
The speaking at Pembroke will take place in the large and shady lawn of Mr. G. H. Smith and as this is the first political speech at Pembroke during this campaign, he will doubtless have a good crowd.
The speech at the Court House to-night will close Senator Goebel's canvass in this part of the State. Being at night he will address himself especially to the workmen and business men who cannot get away in the day time. It is expected that he will put a good deal of "ginger" into the speech, along the same lines as his recent speech at Bedford.
A great many ladies have expressed their intention to be present. The crowd will undoubtedly be a large one, as there is a general desire to hear Senator Goebel, among the supporters of all of the candidates.
